PROSPECTUS

OF THE

IOWA BUSINESS DIRECTORY

AND

RAILROAD GAZETTEER.

We have for some months been collecting material for the publication of a BUSINESS DIRECTORY AND RAILROAD GAZETTEER for the State of Iowa, which will be published at an early date.

The work will contain historical, statistical, and commercial information of every county, city and town in the State, compiled and arranged in proper order.

It is our intention to notice as near as possible all the business houses in the State, and to include in our work a separate Business Directory of each separate locality.

All branches of business, trades and professions, as also all public offices and institutions—educational and otherwise—churches, societies and orders will be represented and classified alphabetically.

Every newspaper and periodical published in Iowa, with the names of the editors and publishers of each, will be noticed, making a complete Press Directory of the State.

The work will contain a complete list of all the post-offices in the State, showing their localities, and whether they are money-order offices, as also a map exhibiting all the counties, principal cities, and towns, and showing all the railroads in the State, whether completed, in course of construction, or in contemplation, up to the time of publication.

THE RAILROAD GAZETTEER that the work will contain will represent all the lines of railroad in the State, give a statistical and historical note of each, and fully describe the business of the same; particular attention will be given to this portion of the publication.

The material for the historical and statistical portion of the work will be obtained from public records, and from the best historians of the State; while the business and commercial information will be obtained by a personal visitation of the various localities by ourselves or our agents.

The work will present a valuable advertising medium for all legitimate branches of business, trades and professions.

It is our intention to make the IOWA BUSINESS DIRECTORY AND RAILROAD GAZETTEER the most valuable book of reference ever published in the State, and we feel that we can safely promise that it will be a work creditable alike to the State, to our patrons and to ourselves.

THE DIRECTORY AND GAZETTEER will be printed on good book paper, and bound in good style; will contain about 800 pages and upwards, and will be sold by subscription only, for $5.00 a volume.

All persons contributing to or in any way encouraging our work, will receive our thanks and acknowledgements.

In presenting this volume to its patrons and the public, it is the hope of the compiler that it will prove the valuable book of reference which it is intended to be. It has been with pleasure that we have labored to compile and publish a work representing a city of 15,000 inhabitants, that is the capital city, the great commercial center of the west, and that is destined to be one of the greatest cities on the line of railroads communicating between San Francisco and New York.

The work contains a Business and Resident Directory, business cards, local and statistical matter, an item of each railroad in the city, a history of the city and surrounding country, a map of the State, lithographs of the new State House, new United States Post Office, a list of State, city, and county officers, a post-office directory of the State, officers of the different societies, orders, and institutions of the city.

The Directory has an extensive circulation in different portions as well as in the city, and on all the lines of railroad leading out of the city.

Thanks to all who have supported the work with their contributions, and to the friends who have helped in the compilation of the same.

CITY OF DES MOINES, IOWA.

Settlement and Early History of the State—Early History of Des Moines—Its Past Growth, Present Prosperity, and Future Prospects,

In the following pages it is designed by the writer to give, not the past history of a young, vigorous, and rapidly-rising city of the New Northwest, but to convey in the simplest, readiest and most pleasing language and manner, such known facts and data as are at hand and sought for by the hundreds of thousands of our countrymen and foreigners, who are looking westward for new homes and seeking to find more attractive locations than the large monied centers and crowding communities of other sections now afford, for the development and reward of energy and thrift of men of moderate means and large enterprise.

Much of the earlier history of Iowa is involved in traditionary recollections, and not until it was almost too late has any effort been made to rescue the earlier incidents from oblivion. The services rendered by the State Historical Society in the matter are not to be lightly regarded by those who take an interest in contrasting her beginning and her attainments of wealth, growth, and prosperity.

Bancroft, who has carefully preserved, with historical fidelity, the facts relating to the tribes and original discoverers of the great Northwest, gives only a few chapters on Iowa, or the territory now called Iowa, but which, at the date covered by his last volume, was more distant from the Atlantic States than China or Japan is from us now.

Father Marquette, through missionary zeal, crossed the Mississippi, and was the first white man known to have set his foot upon the prairies of Iowa.

September 22d, 1788, Julien Dubuque, a Frenchman, arrived at the place now taking his name, and purchased from the Fox Indians the lands now included within the boundaries of the city. Dubuque was we believe, the first regularly organized town in the State.

Robert Lucas was the first territorial Governor, and was appointed in 1838.

In 1832, immediately after what is known as the "Blackhawk purchase," being the first purchase of land from the Indians in Iowa, a few white persons began to settle on the west side of the Mississippi. A military post was established at Montrose, and the place was called "Fort Des Moines." It remained a military post until 1837, when the troops were removed to Fort Leavenworth. Traces of the primitive occupancy of Iowa soil at this point by the white man are still visible, and there are those who remember the old apple trees at Montrose planted by Honori seventy years ago!

Iowa remained from 1836 to 1846 a separate Territory, during which time the office of Governor was held by Robert Lucas, John Chambers and James Clarke. Congress made provision by an act, approved March 3, 1845, for its admission into the Union as a State, with boundaries quite at variance with those finally established. By this law the State was to extend north to the parallel of latitude passing through the Mankato, or Blue Earth River, in the present State of Minnesota, and west to the meridian of 17 degrees 30 seconds west from Washington. This western boundary would very nearly correspond to the line between the present counties of Ringgold and Taylor, and its adoption would have deprived our State of all that fertile portion denominated the "Missouri Slope." In October, 1844, a constitutional convention had been held at Iowa City, and a constitution framed which embraced boundaries far more extensive than those of the present State, taking in much of the southern portion of the present State of Minnesota. The people of the Territory disapproved of the reduction of these boundaries by Congress, and at the election held August 4, 1845, rejected the constitution—the vote being 7,235 for, 7,656 against it. In 1846, Congress proposed the present boundary lines, and another constitutional convention convened at Iowa City on the 4th of May of this year. A session of fifteen days resulted in the framing of the constitution which was sanctioned by the people at an election held August 3, 1846—the popular vote this time being 9,492 for, and 9,036 against the constitution. This constitution was agreed to by Congress, and on the 28th of December of the same year, Iowa was admitted into the Union as a Sovereign State. On the 18th of October preceding, however, the first election had been held for State officers, when Ansel Briggs was elected Governor; Elisha Cutler, jr., Secretary of State; Jos. T. Fales, Auditor, and Morgan Reno, Treasurer. A third constitutional convention convened at Iowa City in January, 1857, and framed the present State Constitution, which was sanctioned by the people at an election held August 3, 1857—the popular vote being 40,311 for, and 38,681 against the constitution.

At the time of the organization of the Territory of Wisconsin in 1836, the entire white population of that portion of said Territory which now constitutes the State of Iowa, was 10,581. The following is an exhibit of the population, as shown by the different census reports:

In 1838.....	22,859	In 1854.....	326,013
1840.....	44,114	1856.....	519,056
1841.....	75,162	1859.....	638,775
1846.....	97,583	1860.....	674,913
1847.....	116,671	1863.....	701,732
1849.....	152,983	1865.....	764,699
1850.....	191,982	1867.....	902,040
1851.....	204,771	1869.....	1,040,819
1852.....	230,713	1870.....	1,181,350

The permanent settlement of Iowa by the whites can hardly be said to have commenced before the year 1833, and was then for a number of years confined to the counties along the Mississippi, the central and western portions remaining still in the possession of the Indians.

The first Legislative Assembly was held at Burlington, November 12th, 1838. In 1841 the Territorial capital was removed to Iowa City, where it remained until the admission of the State, in 1846, and was the State capital until 1858, when, on the 11th of January of that year, the Seventh General Assembly began its session at Des Moines.

Notwithstanding the removal of the capital from Iowa City, it has continued to flourish, having now a population of about 10,000 inhabitants. It is the permanent seat of the chief educational institution in the State—the Iowa State University—endowed and fostered by the commonwealth.

The prestige and influence of the State capital being transferred from Iowa City to Des Moines, the latter has grown up with wonderful rapidity, in the midst of one of the finest agricultural regions in the world. It has the advantages of a fine water power, which is rapidly becoming utilized; and the contributions of two important railways—the Des Moines Valley and the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, (and others almost finished)—making it a place of no small importance to those proud of the growth and energy of our young State.

As a State we can render thanks for Iowa, the Indian name for beautiful land, for the possession of over fifty-five millions of acres, for four million dollars school fund, six thousand and seventy-nine school buildings, twelve thousand teachers, fifty-three colleges and academies, and over four thousand students. Also, for its nineteen daily papers and two hundred and forty-six weeklies, for the railroads across the State and its many land owners, for your almost unrivalled reputation as a State, for patriotism, integrity, temperance and morality.

The city attracted most by the capital and enterprise of the east is the Capital of the State, a city of over 15,000 inhabitants, situated at the junction of the Des Moines and Raccoon Rivers, and occupying a sort of amphitheatre, the bluffs rising by gentle acclivities on all sides, affording fine residence sites, while the level portion is large enough to accommodate the business of a large city. The city is not compact, except in the business portion, but scattered over considerable territory, the corporation extending $2\frac{1}{2}$ miles from north to south, and $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles from east to west. The traveler is apt to be deceived in the number of inhabitants, from the fact that the residences are scattered far back on the wooded hills where they are invisible in a bird's-eye view. The principal buildings which arrest the attention on entering the place, are the State House and Public School Building on Capitol Hill, in the east part of town, the University building on a hill in the west, and the Court House, two very fine and expensive Public School buildings, costing \$145,000, United States Post Office, the many fine large church edifices, together with many fine residences, as fine and costly as there are in the State. A new State House is now being built, which will be one of the finest Capital buildings in the West, it will cost an enormous sum.

The Des Moines River, which flows through the heart of the city, is spanned by four bridges 600 feet in length, while the Coon has also two bridges, affording to South Des Moines and the rich prairie beyond, easy communication with various parts of the city.

In 1853, by act of the Legislature, Fort Des Moines was incorporated as a town. At this time the town had increased to such importance that attention was turned to it as the Capital of the State. Its central geographical location at once induced the sanction of the people of the State, and in 1854 an act was passed by the legislature designating Fort Des Moines as the Capital of the State. A subsequent convention to revise and amend the State Constitution permanently fixed the Capital at this place.

In 1857 a successful movement was made to incorporate the city of Des Moines. An act of incorporation was passed by the legislature, and approved by James W. Grimes, Governor, January 28, 1857.

The first white child born in the town of Fort Des Moines was a daughter of Col. Grier, commanding the military post, in an old cabin a portion of which is now standing.

DES MOINES.

The first white child born in the county, outside the town, was a daughter of J. M. Thrift.

The first marriage in the town was Benjamin Bryant and Barbary Elvira Birge, June 11th, 1846, at the cabin of Henry Birge, by Aaron E. Starke, Justice of the Peace.

The first death in the county was a child of Col. Grier.

The portion of the city east of the river was not included in the original town of Fort Des Moines, and was called Demoine, a title and the orthography of which, many of the early residents are very tenacious about to the present day, although the city charter sought to expunge all distinctions. Des Moines was first called Raccoon Forks, then Fort Des Moines.

The first election for city officers was held May 4th, 1858, on which occasion W. H. McHenry was elected Mayor.

The site on which the city is built is unsurpassed for beauty and pleasant surroundings. From the two rivers extends a rich and fertile plain, skirted with gently undulating hills, or bluffs which are covered with forest trees, among which nestle beautiful homes. Within the area embraced by these slopes a population of fifty thousand can be comfortably accommodated with residences and yet be not crowded. Great care has been exercised in beautifying and adorning the residence.

The original entry of that portion of the city which constituted the town of Fort Des Moines was made by Andrew Gracioso, James Mount, and Thomas Black as Commissioners for Polk County May 12th 1849.

During the first two years after the organization of the county, but little attention was paid to the safe-keeping of records or the duties of county officers, and it is only by diligent search among old manuscripts, scraps of paper here and there, which seem to have been laid carelessly away, that the compiler is enabled to present any report of their doings during the years 1846 and 1847. Sufficient however, has been gleaned to show that the first election held in Polk county, was on the first Monday in April, 1846, the polls being opened in one of the dragoon buildings near the Point. The number of votes polled on that occasion was one hundred and seventy-five. It is estimated the entire population at this time was about three hundred. There were then elected,

It was prophesied that there must be somewhere in this locality, another large city, ranking with New York, Chicago, St. Louis, and San Francisco, and who knows but what Des Moines is to be the place, in view of it being the great commercial as well as railroad center of the West. It is no speculative idea to-day, as to the place where will be the great railroad center, for we have already many railroads converging here, within the corporation. We need only think of the rapid growth of our city to know that before long it will be the metropolis of the Northwest.

The main part of the business is at present done on the west side of the river, but is rapidly reaching over the river, as there is a magnificent country east of the city.

The surrounding country is abundantly supplied with streams of the purest water, upon the banks of which streams are found plenty of different kinds of timber.

The growth of Des Moines has been very rapid since the advent and opening of the railroads.

POPULATION.

A careful survey of the improvements, and from the careful canvass of the city, as our Resident Directory will show, now (1871) warrant us in saying that the population is fully fifteen thousand, and in this candor can detect no exaggeration.

AREA.

In area Des Moines includes about twelve square miles, all suitable and laid out for building purposes. The city is spreading with unprecedented rapidity, both in the erection of handsome and comfortable dwellings, and solid, imposing, and beautiful business blocks.

PROSPECTS.

What facilities, it is asked, has Des Moines, either natural or acquired, for becoming the commercial center? We have said that we have citizens who are wide-awake; that we are building extensively and substantially; but we look beyond and beneath all this. It is necessary to omit all exaggerations—to ignore the great expectations of the citizens, and survey, if possible, the foundation upon which the greatness of our city must rest. Unlike the Iowa cities on the Mississippi and Missouri, which are numerous, Des Moines has no rival. This will allow Des Moines to make a far greater growth than it could otherwise hope to attain. Please take a glance at the map, and think of the prospective roads whose termini will be Des Moines, and that the roads east, west, north and south, are extending their arms for their share of the merchandise and freight which must come here. Don't say that the railroad companies don't know what they are doing. Are not all the roads looking to a connection with the great continental thoroughfare? What does this indicate, but that Des Moines is fast becoming a railroad center?

We do not boast at all, but, as we have canvassed the place, we can speak from facts. With our great tide of emigration this year, the business must be greater than ever before, by far, as houses are being rapidly built.

One of the great advantages which Des Moines claims over all rivals, is, that it is backed by a farming country which can scarcely be excelled. It is a well known fact that Omaha, and many of the large western cities, as well as the mining districts, are fed by the farmers of Central Iowa, and that a large share of this produce is bought in Des Moines. It is plain to be seen what will be the final result. The farmers in Iowa will rapidly become wealthy, having one of the best markets in the country, easily accessible. The merchants will have the first and largest profits after the produce leaves the producer's hands. It is safe to say that the lion's share of the profits of the immense productions of Iowa will remain here. Our rich farming land, which is the foundation of wealth, can never be moved. Our advantages are, therefore, permanent, and not accidental, or subject to other laws than the laws of nature. Some speak of Omaha that she is a place of importance, but the natural advantages of Des Moines are plainly seen to-day.

It will be well for capitalists, and particularly for men with moderate means, desiring to acquire rapidly, to give their closest attention to the attractions which Des Moines now offers to them over any city in the West. The peculiar advantages of Des Moines must be at once apparent to the most casual observer. With lines of railway, north, east, south and west, and the longest single lines in the world.

The past season has been one of business prosperity to Des Moines. A larger number of good, substantial business houses have been built the past summer and present fall than during the same time in any previous year. The number of houses put up, has not been so large, as in some of the past years, but the houses have been of a better, larger and costlier quality.

It is with pride that we watch these encroachments, for there is ample room on the beautiful hills, bluffs and plains in the suburbs for residences, where little garden spots can be portioned off with the houses, and people can live in peace, undisturbed by the noise, bustle and confusion of commerce, or the whiz and whir of manufacture, peculiar to the precincts called "down town."

The prospects are that next year will be more prosperous still. We can already count ten good three-story brick business houses that will be commenced as soon as the frost is out of the earth in the spring. We are also to have another large new planing mill next season. Many improvements we have heard strongly talked of, but are not at liberty to yet announce as fixed facts, among which are a lot of nice brick store rooms on the east side.

The at present cheap rates of real estate, and in view of the large mechanical population which will be brought here in the construction of railroads, and other works, we know of no other place on the American continent which presents better opportunities for the investment of capital, or which promises a more enduring prosperity. Des Moines, unlike many Western cities, is not built up by borrowed capital.

For the Western trade, what town so favorably situated? With the before-named advantages, to make it the market for the West, and insuring it cheap transportation from the east, it could not be better situated in reference to this trade. Indeed, the start already made in this direction is some indication of what may be expected in the future.

Viewed in the light of these facts, Des Moines possesses no ordinary interest; and he who studies the situation disinterestedly, will not undervalue its importance, or ignore its well-grounded hopes of future prosperity and greatness. It cannot hope to rival Chicago, or eclipse San Francisco; but it may reasonably expect to be the metropolis of Iowa. The to-be metropolis of the new North-west, where shall be garnered the grain and products of a soil unsurpassed in its virgin richness by any country, or section of country, upon the face of the globe, to be distributed, through its grand railroad system, to all points north, east, south and west, to feed the world!

POLK COUNTY, IOWA.

ITS AGRICULTURAL AND MINERAL RESOURCES, DESCRIPTION, ETC.

Polk County lies a little south of the center of the State, having five tiers of counties on the north, and three on the south. It is bounded on the north by Boone and Story, and on the east by Jasper, while Warren lies on the south, and Dallas on the west. It has an area of about 352,500 acres of land.

EARLY HISTORY.

As the present condition will prove more interesting to the majority of readers than reminiscences of the past, I shall make but a passing allusion to this subject. Polk County was included in the Sac and Fox Reservation until 1842, when it was ceded to the United States, but with the stipulation that possession should not be given until three years from the date of the treaty. The Government was required to establish a military post at the junction of the Des Moines and Raccoon rivers, in order to protect these tribes from the depredations of their enemies, the Sioux and Pottawattamies. This post was soon established and named Fort Des Moines, and one of the log huts still remains to remind the old settlers of those aboriginal times. The first settlers came in and staked out their claims while the troops were here, which claims, however, could not be considered valid while the Indian title remained, and had to be made again when that title became extinct. In order that they might not be swindled out of the lands they had selected, the settlers prepared themselves for going through the form of staking out their claims anew, and on the evening of the 10th of October, 1845, each man was on his claim, prepared to commence operations. At midnight, as had been agreed upon, a cannon was fired from the Fort, followed by the discharge of guns on the surrounding hills, announcing that the Indian title had expired. The settlers then commenced staking off their claims by the light of the flickering lamps, and by sunrise on the morning of the 11th, most of the work was finished. The old residents delight to recount the many amusing incidents of those early times, and especially of that busy night when the title to their selections of land depended upon their getting ahead of others, who, they feared, might, as is sometimes the case in an unsettled state of society, show more respect for legal enactments than gospel commandments.

The county was organized under a law of the Territorial Legislature, passed in January, 1846, and the first election was held on the first Monday of the following April. One hundred and seventy-five votes were cast, but the population cannot be reckoned from the number of votes, as is now done. It did not much exceed 300, most of the voters being here without families.

The population now, outside the city, is about 15,000

TOPOGRAPHY.

The surface of the country is undulating, but in no places rough, and is beautifully diversified with wooded streams and open prairie, the former being sufficiently numerous in most places to furnish convenient wood lots for all the settlers. The principal stream is the Des Moines river, which traverses the county from northwest to southeast. Previous to the completion of the railroads, steamboats frequently came up as far as Des Moines during spring freshets. But boating was so precarious and of such short duration, that no boat has been up for several years. During the summer months this river is very low, and is forded with ease; but in the spring it sometimes becomes a giant river. Besides this, there are the Raccoon river, which makes a junction with the Des Moines at the capital, the Chickqua (the Indian name for Skunk), North River, Beaver Creek, Walnut Creek and Four Mile Creek, besides numerous smaller streams. Between these lie the divides, or elevated prairie lands, which rise from the streams in gentle slopes rather than precipitous bluffs.

This alternation of timber and native meadow, of hill and vale, produces some beautiful scenery—not grand, but simply beautiful. The road on the divide between the Des Moines River and Beaver Creek affords some fine views. At one point the eye commands a view of Beaver valley for many miles in either direction, embracing some of the finest country in the world.

of the county is found along all the large streams, but the heaviest body is the Des Moines timber, lying on both sides of the Des Moines River, and extending all the way through the county. The number of acres of timber land is not far from 68,000, being about one fifth of the whole territory. Some of the townships are almost exclusively prairie, but have groves of timber adjoining, while some have even more than is desirable for farming purposes.

is both abundant and of good quality. It probably underlies a good portion of the county adjacent to the Des Moines and Raccoon Rivers, while its existence at a reasonable depth in the prairie townships is yet to be tested by shafting. Enough veins have been discovered, and in such localities as to render it safe to assert, that there is enough for local and foreign demand for several generations.

The County is rapidly filling up and being improved by enterprising farmers from the East. The ready market found at Des Moines for everything produced by the farmer, and the rich remunerative yield from everything planted in the soil, are rapidly enriching the farming community.

RAILROADS.

The benefits which are derived from railroad communication are untold, and can hardly be realized, when we remember that civilization and improvements of all kinds follow the iron horse. They are an almighty power. Whatever they undertake to do, as companies or corporations, they always seem to accomplish. If it is the building of a town on any of their lines, they make all to serve their plans by the mighty influence they exert; and almost like magic, cities and towns spring up where they plant the standard.

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC.

The above named road is one of the greatest (if not the greatest) line across our State, connecting, as it does at Council Bluffs, with the Union Pacific. It will compete with the eastern roads in transportation of freight and merchandise. Council Bluffs, Des Moines, Grinnell, Iowa City, and Davenport, are the principal towns and cities on the Iowa Division. The great growth of commerce and trade of the West demand that this road should rank among the first in the land.

H. F. Royce, Superintendent of West Division, and C. D. Sprague, Agent at Des Moines, are gentlemen of ability and experience, and look well to the interest of the road; and who are well esteemed by the citizens and business men of our city.

DES MOINES VALLEY.

The most important north and south line in the State. The business of the past year shows the wonderful advantage of the road, not only to Des Moines, but the entire State, as it connects with all the lines running east and west. The above named road has been of most practical benefit to our city, and we may say the citizens and business men realize the great benefit.

All seem to express their thanks to the gentlemanly and business like men connected with the road; especially H. Coykendall, the Agent at Des Moines, a gentleman of experience, and well liked by all of our citizens.

NEW RAILROADS — DES MOINES, INDIANOLA & MISSOURI

The organization from which the above road sprung, was effected in 1866, to secure the construction of a line to be called the Iowa & Minnesota Railroad. In the Spring of 1869 two separate organizations were effected, one embracing the Indianola Division under the name of the D. M. I. & M. R.R., while the northern portion retained the original name. The grading on the D. M. I. & M. has been completed from Des Moines to Indianola, a distance of 21 miles. The bridging has been completed to Summerset; the cross ties are nearly all delivered, and work will be ready for track laying from Des Moines to Indianola early in the Spring of this year.

Active measures are now in progress, likely to lead to the speedy extension of this road across the several east and west trunk lines of Southern Iowa to a connection with the Great Railway System of Missouri.

Geo. E. Griffith, of Indianola, President; J. B. Bausman, of Des Moines Chief Engineer.

Steps have been taken which look to the completion of the remaining portion of the Iowa and Minnesota Railroad from Des Moines to Ames, during the present year. In view of this, another important enterprise has sprung up and is looked upon with much favor, namely: propose to build a link of railroad which will extend to the north line of Iowa through the points named, and furnish direct communication with the pineries of the north. This line has the alternative of building direct from Des Moines or diverging from that of the Iowa and Minnesota at Polk City, and extending thence northward. Recent surveys reveal an exceedingly favorable route to Montana and Boone. From the Iowa line to Mankato, on the Minnesota river, the greater portion is already in operation, and the construction of the link thence to St. Cloud is regarded as well provided for.

THE DES MOINES, BOONE AND NORTHERN RAILROAD COMPANY

THE WINTERSSET AND DES MOINES RAILROAD,

aided by strong conditional guaranties, is in the care of able and influential parties, who propose to secure the construction of their road during the present year directly between the above named points; or if deemed expedient, to tap the line of the Des Moines, Indianola and Missouri at or near Summerset.

THE AUBLA, KNOXVILLE AND DES MOINES RAILROAD, designed to extend the line of the North Missouri Railroad to Des Moines, is in process of construction. A considerable portion of the line is under contract, and nine miles of grading have been recently completed. This road has also the alternative of construction directly to Des Moines, or of tapping the Des Moines, Indianola and Missouri at or near Carlisle.

The friends of various projects leading northward from Des Moines, have been at work in the meantime, and their efforts have been rewarded with more or less success. In 1860 a survey was made from Des Moines to McGregor, via Marshalltown, the main object of the enterprise being to place Des Moines in direct railway communication with, and secure cheap transportation for produce by means of the proposed improvement in the navigation of the Fox and Wisconsin rivers.

A LINE leading from Des Moines directly to Sioux City has also been proposed, of which the Sioux City Journal says:

"We are happy to inform our readers that a company has been formed, with Hon. B. F. Allen, of Des Moines, at its head, for the purpose of constructing a line of railway from Des Moines to this city. Hon. A. W. Hubbard, and Hon. Wm. L. Joy, of this city, are in the directory. The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific road is understood to be the backing. We informed our readers some time ago that the Rock Island company had decided to secure direct connection with this city, and thus with the Upper Missouri country and the Northern Pacific road, and we are pleased to record so early a movement toward the carrying out of the project. We have information that the intention is to have the line completed in two years. It will be an important feeder to Sioux City, and at the same time open direct connection with the State Capital, and give us admirable connection with St. Louis." Of the great importance of the above road to Des Moines there can be no question.

NEWSPAPERS.

The first newspaper established in Des Moines, was the IOWA STAR. It was issued in June, 1845, by Messrs. Barlow Granger & Co., from one of the dragoon buildings on Corn river, which was then one of the most popular streets of the city. Mr. Granger informs us that he got along very well in summer, in his cabin, but in winter it was necessary to build fires both under and on the press to work the ink. The circulation of the STAR at this time was about 800. It passed into the hands of Bates & Johnson. The latter died about eight months after assuming control of the paper, and was succeeded by Dr. A. Y. Hull, in August, 1851. In May, 1852, Dr. Hull retired, leaving Curtis Bates sole editor. He so continued until 1854, when D. O. Finch became associated with him. The paper then passed into the hands of Tomlinson & Farnes, who changed its name to IOWA STATESMAN. It passed into the hands of Will Porter, February, 1857, who changed its name to IOWA STATE JOURNAL. The successor of Mr. Porter was Stilson Hutchins, who associated with him Geo. M. Todd. The name was changed to "IOWA STATESMAN." During all its various changes and mutations, it has been the organ of the Democratic party.

In 1860 Messrs. Stevens & Hoxie started the COMMONWEALTH, which subsequently changed its name to the TIMES, and passed into the hands of J. B. Bausman & Co., who afterward sold it to W. H. Merritt, who changed the name and politics to the present STATESMAN—now called THE STATESMAN, and is under the control and editorship of Cole, Stull & Co., live, energetic young men.

Almost simultaneously with the STAR appeared the FORT DES MOINES GAZETTE, published by E. P. Sherman & Co., but the enterprise not proving a success, it was abandoned, and soon after Peter Myers & Co. established the STATE JOURNAL, which at the end of about one year was suspended, and the Democracy had the only organ in the county, until February, 1856, when Thomas H. Shepard established the IOWA CITIZEN. His associate in the enterprise was A. J. Stevens. In February, 1857, Mr. Shepard retired and was succeeded by W. H. Farner, as editor, (who had during the previous campaign become a Fremontier,) Mr. Stevens being de facto the proprietor. In May of the same year, the paper went into the hands of J. C. Savery. In August, Mr. Farner parted from the paper. He was succeeded by J. M. Dixon, who was sole editor until December 7, when the entire establishment passed into the hands of John Teesdale. With Mr. Dixon as associate editor, the paper was carried on with uniform success. February 15th, 1860, the name of the paper was changed to IOWA STATE REGISTER. On the 8th of May, 1860, Mr. Teesdale published his valedictory, and the paper passed into the hands of Hon. F. W. Palmer. Meanwhile the city had grown to important proportions, and a weekly paper was a slow coach. To meet the demand for a daily paper, the first number of the DAILY STATE REGISTER was issued January 13th, 1862, with J. M. Dixon as associate editor. Since that date the business of the establishment has grown with the city, and become permanent and profitable, with Mills & Co. editors and proprietors until recently. The REGISTER is now in the hands of Clarkson Company, as editors and proprietors. We can say that the present proprietors are very able men, and now have the best daily and weekly paper in the West.

From the GAZETTE to the present STATE REGISTER, those papers have been the organs of the Whig, Free Soil, and Republican parties, in the order of their succession.

In the winter of 1859, Wm. Dunbar Wilson removed the publication office of the IOWA FARMER from Mt. Pleasant to Des Moines, and changed it from a monthly to a weekly paper, Mills & Co. becoming the publishers.

For a short time the paper passed into the hands of

H. W. Pettitt, who died in 1866, when the paper passed back into the hands of Mark Miller. It is now published as the IOWA HOMESTEAD, by Wm. Duane Wilson.

The MONTHLY REPORTER, was issued in July, 1858, by N. W. Mills & Co., and continued about three years.

The IOWA SCHOOL JOURNAL, was issued July, 1859, by N. W. Mills & Co., and published monthly in quarto form, until 1862, when it was changed to a magazine, and so continues, with Mills & Co. publishers. Its editors are James Ellis and J. M. Ross.

The following shows the papers and publications of the present time:

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The interest taken in the education of the youth is the most conclusive evidence of the intelligence of the community where they may be established. Here we have the list of schools all will admit. It is admitted by all who visit our town that we have the finest school buildings in the State for public schools. There is not another city in the West where the public stamp to take so much interest in all matters pertaining to the education and moral training of the children who are committed to Des Moines. There are at present five large public schools. There is a very fine Baptist College, besides many other schools & colleges. It is a pleasure to state that the education of the youth of this city is in the hands of the best of men.

COMMON SCHOOLS OF POLK COUNTY

There are 134 Independent Districts and Sub Districts in the county, requiring about 160 teachers to run the schools.

There are 116 school houses in the county, valued at $251,026.

The city of Des Moines is divided into two independent school districts:

1st. On the east side there is one school building, valued at $30,000. In this is taught a full graded school, from 1st Primary up to, and including the High School. Twelve teachers are employed in the building, as follows:

A. W. Stuart, Principal, Misses Annie Baker, Nettie Coolidge, Maggie Patton, E. S. Chamberlain, Mrs. M. G. Thornton, Mrs. A. L. Libby, Misses Rosa Moore, Ella Courtney, Eloise Walcott, Lizzie Kipp, M. A. Johnson.

There are 1340 children between the ages of five and twenty-one years. There were enrolled 765, with an average attendance of 561.

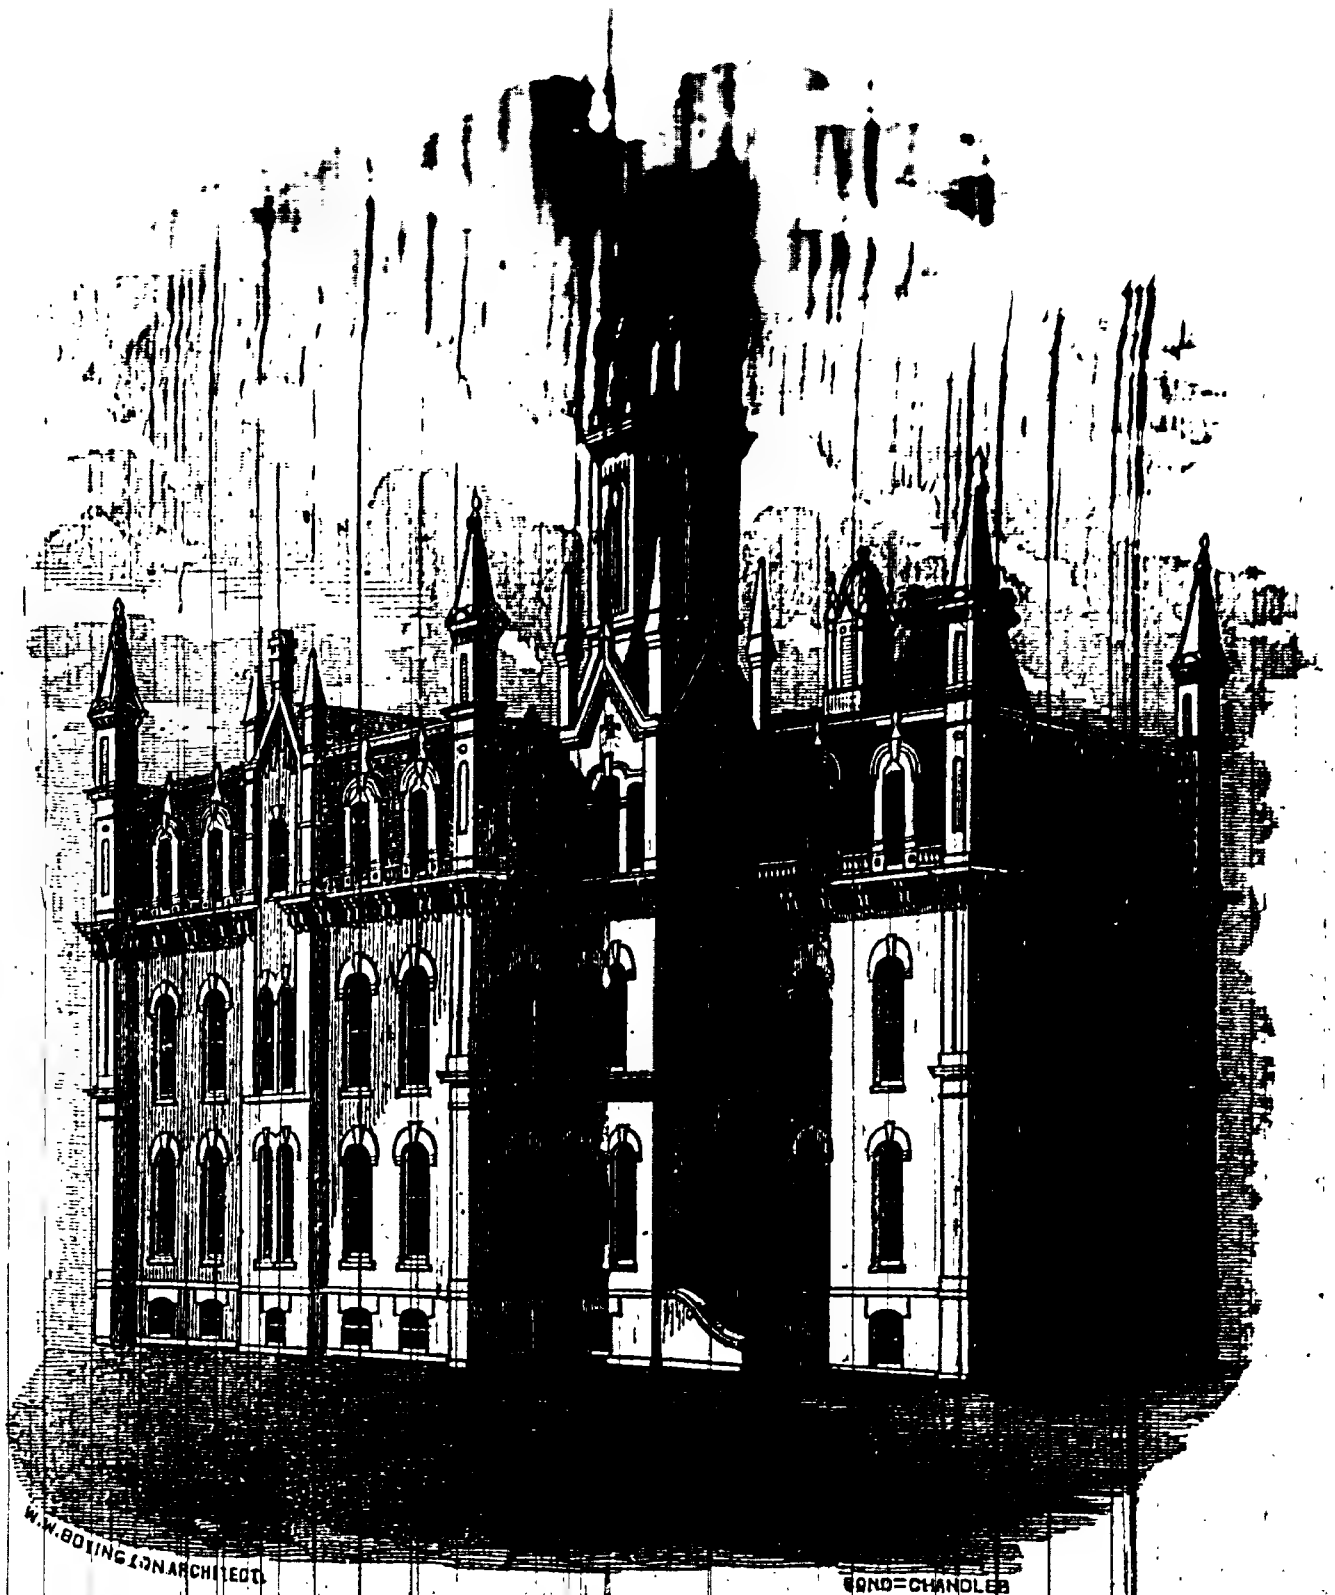

Besides this the colored school for the city is located on the east side supported by the joint action of the Boards. It is under the charge of Mr. E. D. Depew, with an attendance of some thirty scholars.

The following are the officers of the East Side District:

J. A. Elliott, S. P. Ives, W. W. Moore, Wesley Redhead, J. M. Davis, E. J. Fairall, J. W. Jones, Treasurer, Wm. Lowry, Secretary.

The Independent School District of Des Moines—West Side—comprises all that part of the city of Des Moines which lies west of the Des Moines River. The Independent District is divided into districts to suit the present location of the school houses—the district taking the name of the Ward in which it is situated. There are now four school houses in the District, known as the 1st Ward, 2nd Ward, 3rd Ward and 4th Ward houses, all in use except the 3rd Ward house, which is not quite completed, but will be during the present year. The 1st Ward house is situated south of the "Coon River;" is of brick, one story high, and is of comparative little value. The 2nd Ward house is a beautiful building, situated on 9th street, between Mulberry and Vine streets; is three stories high, the third story being of the Mansard style. This house is built of brick, and is beautiful in architecture and accommodates 900 pupils. It is warmed by the Union Water Heating Apparatus, which cost about $6,000. The entire building with all its appliances cost $80,000.

The High School occupies the 3rd floor, and the various lower grades of the school the other stories of the building. The ground on which this house stands is beautifully adorned with trees, and extends from Mulberry to Vine street.

The 4th Ward house is of brick, two stories high, and situated in the northern part of the city, at the corner of 6th and School streets, and cost about $20,000. It will accommodate 300 pupils. This building was erected about ten years ago.

The 3rd Ward building is beautifully situated on an eminence on Pleasant street, between 9th and 10th. It is of brick, three stories high, and will cost $60,000. When completed, which will be during the present year, this building will accommodate 800 pupils.

The following gentlemen compose the School Board:

President—William H. Leas; Directors—Isaac Cooper, J. J. Williams, A. Newton, W. W. Williamson, Jno H. Given. Treasurer, P. R. West. Secretary, D. G. Perkins.

The teachers are as follows:

C. Youngerman, President; A. Jann, Vice President; L. Buntz, Secretary; C. Hell, Treasurer. P. Nau, A. Buchmann, W. Lee, L. Frank, Directors. C. Beck, Principal.

The University of Des Moines is situated on a gentle elevation in the north-west part of the city. It is a four-story brick building, finished inside, and is surrounded by the acres of land (about 600 acres) $10,000.

Officers—Prof. A. Abernathy, Principal; Mr. P. S. Whitman, Mrs. P. S. Whitman; H. H. Bennett, Steward. Seventy pupils are in attendance. Next term commences March 23d.

At their recent State Convention in this city, the Baptists of Iowa adopted this institution as the University of their denomination. To this end they will raise $50,000 by January, 1872, for its endowment, and the citizens of Des Moines will raise a like amount for the same purpose. A debt of $10,000 on the property has already been canceled, mainly through the labors of Rev. J. F. Childs.

Rev. J. A. Nash is the Secretary, and is doing a great deal for the growth of the University.

THE UNITED STATES COURT HOUSE AND POST OFFICE.

In July, '67, was begun on the north-east corner of 5th street and Court Avenue, in this city by the United States Government, a building for the use of the Post Office, U. S. Courts, and all U. S. officers resident here. That building is now completed and occupied by all entitled to offices in it.

THE APPROPRIATIONS.

The first appropriation for the building was secured by Mr. Kasson in the winter of 1866-7. The amount was $65,000—$15,000 for the ground, and the balance to be used in starting the work. Mr. Dodge during his term secured a further appropriation of eighty-nine thousand dollars, and Mr. Palmer since his election has secured three appropriations, amounting in the aggregate, to fifty-two thousand dollars. This makes a total appropriation of $206,000.

THE LOCATION

was selected by a commission, appointed by the government, composed of Hon. B. F. Allen, Major Hoyt Sherman, and Hon. C. C. Cole. This site is a central and a good one.

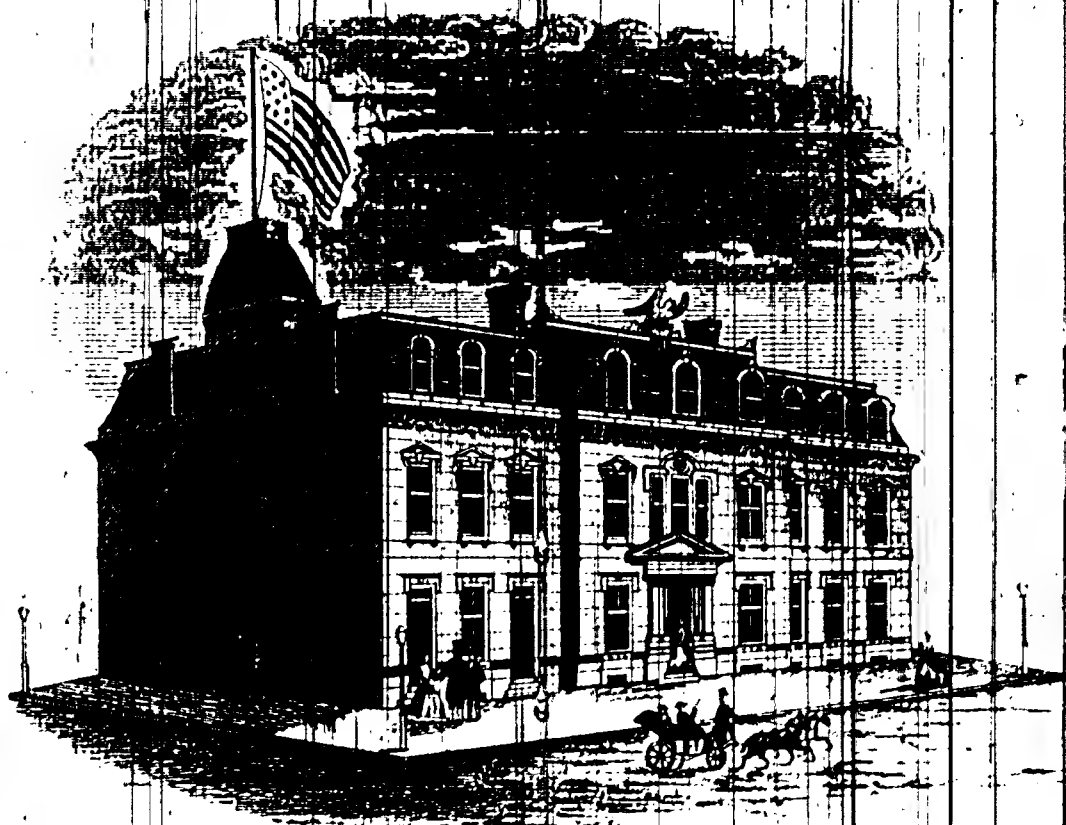

THE BUILDING

on the grounds is 64x116½ feet in size, and is built of stone, furnished by Capt. McCune of Keokuk, for the basement and sub-base; for the super-structure, of stone from Sanger & Street's quarries, Joliet, Ills. The brick used in the building, were furnished by S. A. Robertson of this city.

All the rooms of the building are furnished with grates and fire-places to be used for heating in the changeable weather of the Spring and Fall.

A stone sidewalk is to extend entirely around the building, and will cost $7000.

An iron fence is to be put around the north side of the lots. Gates are to be made for mail-wagons to drive through.

The ground is to be leveled, trees planted and grass sown. The gas fixtures of the house cost $3,000, and include 302 burners. The chandelier in the Court room has forty-eight burners, and cost $800.

The heating apparatus cost $7000.

The marble tiling delivered in the City cost about $3000.

The ceiling in the Post Office and hall is divided into panels and every room has cornices in its corners.

One hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars have already been expended on the structure.

The furniture for the various offices will be worth ten thousand dollars.

The building is almost fire proof. The doors were manufactured here, and are of walnut and cherry lumber. All the wood work of the interior is varnished and left its natural color.

The building in all its parts is really a magnificent piece of work, an ornament to Des Moines and a credit to the United States Government.

We have heard folks who have seen many postoffices, say that ours is the finest in inward finish and arrangement of any in the United States, and we believe in saying this they speak truthfully.

We make mention of the above named temperance organization, as it is expected there will be a Chapter established here before long. This order is somewhat similar to the I. O. G. They forbid every thing that will intoxicate, but thinking that sweet cider should not be forbidden, no more than the apple or apple butter, as it is not called alcohol until fermentation takes place. DES MOINES POSTAL RULES.

To insure their correct transmission and delivery, letters should be plainly directed in ink; if to a large city, the street and number, or letter-box, should be given; and if not to an important city or town, the county as well as office and State should be given.

Pre-payment by stamps is required on all letters to places within the United States at the rate of three cents per half ounce or fraction thereof.

Letters insufficiently stamped are returned to the writer, if known, for the additional postage; otherwise they are forwarded and the amount due collected on delivery.

Letters not pre-paid by stamps, those bearing stamps cut from stamped envelopes, or revenue stamps, or such stamps as were in use prior to 1861, are treated as "unmailable," and unless the writers are known, are sent to the Dead Letter Office.

Full pre-payment by stamps is required on all transient printed matter, foreign and domestic.

All drop letters must be pre-paid by postage stamps.

Letters addressed to initials, and fictitious persons or firms, are not deliverable.

Packages containing poisons, explosive chemicals, oils, liquids of any kind, or anything liable to injure or endanger the safety of the mails, will not be received.

Valuable letters should in all cases be registered; when money is designed to be sent, money orders or drafts should, if practicable, be procured. Money should never be enclosed in an ordinary letter.

Letters bearing a request to return to the writer if unclaimed within thirty days or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post-office and State across the left-hand side of the envelope, will be so returned free of postage. This precaution is recommended as a certain and early means of recovering valuable letters not delivered, and also of knowing whether letters are received by the persons to whom they are addressed.

Letters are "forwarded" to any place in the United States without additional postage, but neither newspapers to regular subscribers, or transient printed matter, can be re-mailed, or forwarded without pre-payment at transient rates.

Any written communication in or upon any newspaper, magazine, pamphlet or other printed matter sent in the mail, subjects the package to letter postage, and the person sending the same to a severe penalty.

OFFICE RULES.

Box-rents form a part of the postal revenue, and, therefore are not, as supposed by many, the postmaster's individual perquisites. They are by law payable in advance at the beginning of each quarter, and henceforth must be paid accordingly. Otherwise they will be held and declared "VACANT." All the mail matter in one box must be taken out by one party using the same.

Persons having boxes are hereby cautioned to have their letters and papers addressed to the care of the same. This precaution is necessary, as the large and rapidly increasing number of boxes occupied, and the great number of persons of the same and similar names using different boxes, renders it impossible for clerks to make accurate distribution, unless the box is indicated. Therefore box-holders are warned that if they neglect to have their mail addressed to their proper boxes, this office will not be responsible for placing it in the "General Delivery."

Clerks are instructed to deliver mail matter from boxes only to persons renting the same, or upon their written order, or to those known to be authorized to receive it.

Persons having grievances against this office, on any account whatever, are requested to report the same to the Postmaster. The public are especially requested to inform the Postmaster of any inattention to their duties or misconduct on the part of the clerks in this office.

Clerks are instructed in no case to open mail pouches after they have been locked, for the purpose of mailing letters for individuals. The time of closing of the mails are published in the city papers, so that all can be advised, and the mails are never closed until the latest moment of the time fixed.

The rules of this office, made in pursuance of instructions from the Post Office Department, positively forbid persons not in its employ or officially connected with the mail service, from coming within the mailing or distributing rooms, except upon special business with the Postmaster, and it is hoped that no one, whatever his position or intimacy with the Postmaster or clerks, will attempt to violate these rules.

MONEY ORDER DEPARTMENT.

The money order system presents a safe, cheap and convenient method of transmitting small sums through the mails. It is not the design of the system to facilitate the financial transactions of the mercantile community by assuming the functions of banks in the furnishing of exchange for large sums of money, but to promote the convenience of the general public in the transmission of small sums to all parts of the country. Orders are limited to $50.00, but additional orders, not exceeding the aggregate sum of $150.00, can be procured to the same person at the same time.

Rates—Orders not exceeding $20, ten cents; orders over $20, and not exceeding $30, fifteen cents; orders over $30 and not exceeding $40, twenty cents; orders over $40 and not exceeding $50, twenty-five cents.

REGISTRY DEPARTMENT.

Valuable letters will, upon application, be registered to any part of the United States, or to Canada, Great Britain, Holland, the Italian States, or States of the North German Union, including Austria. The postage and fee to be pre-paid. Fee fifteen cents to any place in the United States; five cents to Canada and Nova Scotia; 8 cents to the other countries named.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

All unclaimed letters (except those enumerated below) are advertised in The Daily Register. Persons calling for advertised letters should give the date of the list. The following classes of letters are not advertised: drop letters; letters bearing requests to be returned to the writer if unclaimed; letters addressed to care of hotels and returned from thence to the postoffice as unclaimed; letters returned from Dead Letter Office to the writer; box letters; letters from any of the Departments of the Government; circulars, or printed matter.

DOMESTIC MAILS.

The single letter rate of postage is three cents, throughout the United States, for $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce, or under. An additional rate of three cents is required for each additional $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce, or fraction thereof.
